

When asked by Adam if I would write a reference for Charleston's Fine Art Auctions, we were delighted to share our experience with others. We couldn't speak highly enough of the whole experience with Adam, Danny and Team...But we will try!

The whole Charleston's process was seamless, beginning to end. And it went exactly as they promised. No unexpected complications.

Adam and Danny explained the entire process prior to us formally engaging them and we felt very comfortable moving forward. Always very polite, consultative and with nothing being a problem, they came to the property two weeks prior to the auction to catalogue all of our pieces. I had thought that we might have to move things around to help them. Not at all. They did all the work. The online advertising was indeed extensive, as many of our friends told us that they saw the marketing.

Nearly every single piece was sold on the day. The fact that it was all picked up by the purchasers and delivery companies two days after the auction was totally stress free and efficient. We didn't have to deal with any purchasers, and we were paid promptly after the sale. We would have never imagined that it would be so easy.

Originally, we thought that we would try and sell items privately but then we would have had to deal with so many different people over such a long period. In one day practically everything was sold, and we really didn't have to do a thing.

We would highly recommend Adam and Danny. They clearly have a great knowledge of the business, and how to work with people at what can be a stressful time. The same goes for the rest of their Team.

In a few words: professional, efficient, trustworthy and a pleasure to deal with.

I highly recommend Charleston's Fine Art Auctions. They recently conducted a house auction for my husband and I and we cannot speak highly enough of Adam, Danny and their committed team. They were professionals from beginning to end. It was a large home with plenty of oversized furniture and we were fortunate enough to be able to sell it all at their online auction. We were happy with the prices that were achieved. I must say we were most impressed by their service after the auction was completed. The auction was held online on a Sunday afternoon and by Tuesday late afternoon everything had been picked up by the buyers and all the large items were removed by a furniture removal company. I can honestly say it was such a positive experience. I am a strong advocate of this company and would recommend them highly if this service was needed.

What a pleasure to attest to the incredible work that was done by Danny and Adam when I moved out of my property in February of this year.

I was recommended to them by a friend in the carpet business and was so grateful for the introduction.

Nothing was a problem for these two guys. Their energy and professionalism was at its best. They came to the property and catalogued all of my pieces with no fuss.

Very knowledgeable and gave me realistic estimates on the items I wanted to sell which was many. I was able to put reserves on some of the valuable pieces and nearly everything was sold!

Danny and Adam were always contactable which was important.

The auction itself was fun and entertaining and I watched the entire process online. Three days later my house was empty and I was ready to move.

Definitely the way to go if you have household items and furnishings you want to move on because in my case was moving from a large home into an apartment and wanted to restyle.

Happy and very satisfied customer.

I was referred to Charleston's Fine Art Auctions by a friend who had used their services a couple of years ago. The auction was conducted online and ran extremely smoothly. Danny was very helpful and always available to give me good guidance on values. The team was diligent taking all the pictures of our items that were then uploaded online. Nothing was too much trouble and I felt that Charleston's gave their all to achieve the best results for us. After the auction Danny and his team came to the property and handled all of the pick-ups of sold items. They took great care when packaging all the items for transport. My husband and I were extremely happy with the clearance and the entire process was run very professionally.

Selling and vacating a family home is overwhelming. It can be stressful and a very emotional experience at the best of times, especially so if migrating, therefore needing to cull many significant and very sentimental items.

The passion and energy of Danny Taibel the Director & Fine Art Auctioneer at Charleston's Fine Art Auctions whilst auctioning must be seen to be believed. He must be plugged into a battery charger. Amazing! Literally non-stop action for over 4 hours.

Delivery and dispatching of all items was scheduled a few days later and was done in a very professional and hassle free environment to the homeowner.

To say their ability to manage the whole process from beginning to end, lightens the emotional and psychological load is an understatement.

Pleasure to do business with them.
